Coach's Report

SFLW Under 20's coach

Who doesn't love rep footy? And what better way to kick off a huge King's Birthday public holiday with the best Under 20 women's players that the North and South have to offer! These young players are truly the best up and coming stars and are the future of both the SFLW and NTFA.

Our squad has been working hard these past two months and have really gelled and bonded together well. We have a very diverse and highly skilled group with all players being able to play in multiple positions across the ground.

I am very lucky to have such an experienced coaching group around me with Mel Green, Katie Stanford, Ash Saunders, and Loren Johnston. I appreciate the time and effort you all have put in behind the scenes and at training sessions to get the group ready for today!

Well done to all those who were selected in the initial squad and best of luck to those who will take the field today. Go South!

Players to watch

Ella Wagner
A crafty backline player who isn't afraid to take the game on. Ella is a great leader both on and off the field and certainly one to watch today as she sets up those players in front of her.

Amy Edmund
A key utility player who can play either down forward or in the midfield. Has an elite kick and a great pair of hands, Amy is an excitement machine.

Shakala Yarran

Yaz is a mobile ruck who is sure to give our midfielders first use out of stoppages. Can cover the ground well and a great overhead mark.
